Documentation

All application material and supporting documents must be received by the Graduate Education Admissions Office before your application is considered. Applications must be received a minimum of two weeks prior to the scheduled start date of the first course to be taken. Due to limited enrollment, acceptance is offered on a first-come, first-served basis. In addition to the completed application form, all applicants must submit official transcripts from all post-secondary institutions attended (Crandall University students do not need to submit Crandall University transcripts). In addition, applicants to the Master of Education degree must provide the documentation listed below:

- A resume and a cover letter, in which you present your professional goals and how the M.Ed. degree will help you achieve those goals;
- Two professional reference letters from individuals who can provide input on your strengths as an educator and why they support your decision to complete the M.Ed. degree. One of these references must reflect on your academic ability if you have completed a degree in the past ten years;
- A confirmation of employment letter if you are currently employed in a school district OR a criminal record check if you are not currently employed in a school district;
- Students who require learning accommodations are encouraged to contact the Registrar's Office immediately after acceptance to ensure that appropriate accommodations can be made. Professional documentation that is current and that establishes the nature of the learning accommodations required must be provided.
